CANDIDATE INTERVIEW:

Alves wants to bring new perspective to West Sac school board

JOSHUA ALVES

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Joshua Alves hopes to win a seat on West Sacramento's school board on the November ballot – not so much to make major changes, but to bring a different perspective to the board.

"I'm a creative individual who looks at alternative ideas, not only in my professional life, but in my personal life," he told the News-Ledger this week. "I listen to creative people while looking at different ways to generate business, either with myself professionally or (hopefully) on the school board."

So does he hope to bring a "business" approach to the board?

"I wouldn't say 'business,' I'd say a 'creative' approach," he answered. "I would say maybe that approach, with a business/technology spin."

Alves, 37, is a married father of two young children who are approaching school age. His family lives in The Rivers, a north-city neighborhood. He said the stage of his children's lives has pushed him toward running for a seat on the Washington Unified School District governing board. He and his wife hope to send their kids into local public schools.

"That is our goal," said Alves. "That is why I'm running for a seat like this – to continue the momentum I've got and keep the kids here rather than send them to other schools."

This is his first run for local office.

"I grew up in Oakdale, California, in the Central Valley. It's a small town right outside Modesto as you're heading up to Yosemite," he recalled. "I went to college. I started at UC Santa Barbara and finished off at Sac State with a degree in biology."

He's now been a salesman of medical devices for about ten years.

Since being in West Sacramento, Alves has served on the board of the homeowners association at The Rivers, and he's been active in his daughter's Southport preschool, he reports. And he has signed up to be trained as part of the local police department's civilian bicycle patrol.

"I also volunteer for a couple of military groups," said Alves. "One of those is called 'Mission Essential,' which is a not-for-profit program for teaching educating leadership for professional athletes or corporate individuals. I also work for 'The Next Ridgeline,' which is the Green Beret Foundation, and which is assisting exiting soldiers back into the workforce."

Alves – not a veteran himself – got into those programs because of a friend in the military.

Does he think the current school board is doing a good job?

"I've been to a few meetings and I've watched a little bit on video as well," he commented. "I think just like anything in the world, there's room for improvement. I'm not sure they're doing a bad job and I'm not saying our schools are failing miserably, but I'd like to have an alternative perspective (represented on the board) outside of the academic industry. With more of a business acumen."

He added that it would be nice to bring a male voice back to the board, which will become all-female when board member Adam Menke's term expires this year.

Alves was asked what he thinks of the district's fiscal situation. He said he supports Measure V, the school bond measure on November's ballot.

"I don't think there's any real crystal-ball answer on how to solve the issue of old schools that need to be updated or fixed," he said. "I think this bond is a good alternative to address those issues in the financial sector for improving schools. I think it's important to remove the mold or any hazardous substances that can cause sickness (at school facilities)."

What are a school board member's job duties?

"I think it's kind of like being a parent – it never ends," said Alves. "You are very influential not only in your own kid's life, but also on every child that goes

Rite of passage: RCHS celebrates homecoming

By Danny Thirakul
River City High School Senior

The excitement at River City High School could be heard for miles around on Friday, Sept. 26, as the Raiders kicked off their Homecoming weekend with a spirit rally. Even the varsity football team's defeat to Pioneer (42-20) couldn't dampen student enthusiasm for their school.

The afternoon rally opened with the school cheer, recognition of Fall sports, and was followed by an array of games in which students from all grade levels at the high school could compete.

Friday night the Homecoming floats and royalty enthralled the crowd. Homecoming Queen, cheerleader Kalina Ramos Sangco, 17, said, "I am so happy I won, and I'm glad I won with my best friend (Homecoming King, Raiders football player Mateo Pineda)."

River City's Cheerleaders, the Command Dance Crew, the marching band "The River City Regiment" all wowed spectators.

RCHS Music Director Tony Marvelli said he's always proud of the band and added, "The quality has only gone up from year to year."

Cheerleaders Head Coach Sean Henderson had no doubt the squad would do a

Annual raffle: big prizes, big money

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The "All Charities Raffle," a big fundraiser for many West Sacramento nonprofits, is nearing the finish line.

Charlie Moore, executive director of the West Sacramento Foundation, explained that his organization has been organizing the raffle annually for five years. The experiment is apparently a success.

"Last year, we had about $58,000 in raffle sales," said Moore. "We were at $30,000 in year one. We're just raising money to put it back into the community."

The deal is that the Foundation prints the tickets, organizes raffle prizes, and then reaches out to local churches, sports leagues and charity groups. Each group is invited to sell tickets – and they get to keep $9 from every $10 ticket they sell.

"We have over 11,000 tickets out," Moore told the News-Ledger late last month. "Last year's big winner was the River City Rowing Club, which sold over $10,000 worth, or over a thousand tickets."

Among the groups going strong this year, said

Moore, is the parent teacher organization at Southport Elementary School. Their effort is led by Laura Frederica.

"Laura started out getting a couple of tickets, then came back and got another hundred and another hundred (to sell). Their goal is to send sixth graders to a science camp."

Another group signed on to the raffle is the "Friends of the Main Drain Parkway," which oversees a community garden on land alongside a drainage canal in Southport. The community garden is near Venice Street.

"We've sold fewer tickets than last year," allowed Linda Music, the group's secretary/treasurer. "We've set a goal and hit our goal, though, raising over $3,000 gross."

What will those proceeds do for the Friends of the Main Drain Parkway?

"It goes toward education," said Music. "We do a lot of children's programs. Children come and do different things at the garden. We also have potlucks during the summer and we're a big supporter of National Night Out (a police-sponsored neighborhood event in August)."

Those who buy tickets have a shot at an impressive list of prizes – some of which are pretty "big ticket" items. Prizes include a week's lodging in Hawaii or Mexico, use of a River Cats skybox, lunch at Whitey's Jolly Kone weekly for a year, a flat-screen TV, a "brew your own beer" session," $500 shopping spree at Ikea, his and hers bicycles and more.

The raffle drawing will be held at a $5 spaghetti dinner hosted by the Knights of Columbus starting 5:30 p.m. on Sat, Oct. 18 at Our Lady of Grace School, 1990 Linden Road.

POLICE LOG

News items below are collected from police dispatchers' notes and arrest reports. The information in them has often not been verified beyond the initial reports.

Sept. 30

An Angel Court man reported finding some fraudulent charges made on his debit card, and a woman on Huckleberry Circle reported fraudulent charges made to her checking account. Meanwhile, a woman on Diablo Street learned that one of her checks had been delivered to the wrong address and was then cashed fraudulently.

Oct. 1, 7:05 a.m.

A Manzanita Way man accused a neighbor of stealing his marijuana plants. He then threw a rake handle at the neighbor, causing a bleeding injury to the other man's cheek. He went to jail for that.

Oct. 2, 2:30 a.m.

At Riverbank Road and Myrtle: Police contacted two people, and asked them if they were carrying any weapons. A 39-year old woman from Merkley Avenue answered that she was carrying a knife. The officer found the weapon "concealed under the sleeve of her sweater. . . (and) held in place with a wire wrapped around her forearm for quick access."

The woman was arrested.

Oct. 2, 4:15 a.m.

A woman reported an assault that took place on Deerwood Street. She said a man held her on the ground by her neck and stole her purse and cell phone. After the assault, she flagged down a police officer.

Oct. 2, 7:23 a.m.

Lake Road: An Antelope man asked some people at a gas station for money. They declined and went into the station's market. One of them, a man, told police that when they came out of the store to see the suspect in the process of stealing their GPS unit from their vehicle. The suspect then pointed a semiautomatic handgun at them before driving away.

The suspect was later located driving a white Lincoln. The 23-year old Marston Street man told police he had taken the GPS unit to a pawn shop. They recovered it and one of the victim's ID'd the suspect, who was arrested.

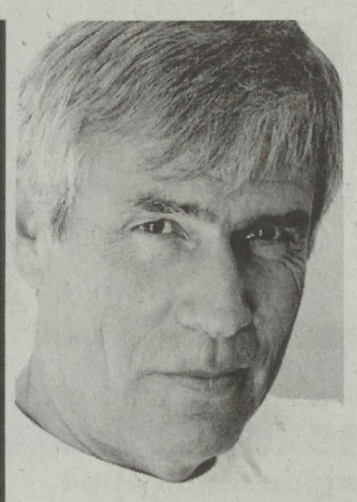
The many joys and tortures of the great outdoors

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

A friend of mine decided that the weather was so nice last weekend that he was going to take his family camping.

"Where will you be going?" I asked him with interest.

"Well, the kids want to go to Dillon Beach so they can be near the ocean, but we've already done that once this year and I want to go all the way up into the high redwoods, you know, up in Humboldt County, not all that far away from the Oregon border. They have all kinds of pretty campgrounds up near the Avenue of the Giants, and I especially like one called Burlington. So now all I have to do is talk my kids into it. They're teenagers now so getting them to go that far away from their friends and computers for a few days won't be easy, not to mention that their cellphones won't work very good up there, which they will really hate."

"But you have all the comforts of home in that huge camper trailer of yours, don't you?"

"Absolutely, but to tell you the truth, that is to keep my wife happy since she hates to do real camping in a tent. She had one of those fathers who used to take her camping out in the middle of nowhere and she spent most of her time getting eaten by mosquitos and not having anywhere to take a shower and clean up. So she told me years ago that if I wanted her to go camping with me, I needed to come up with a camper trailer pretty much as big and comfortable as our house."

After I had finished my little conversation with my friend about his good-weather out-of-town excursion, I found myself thinking about all the different ways one can go about camping. I even decided to look up the official Wikipedia definition of camping and it goes something like this:

"Camping is an outdoor recreational activity where the participants (known as campers) leave urban areas, their home region, or civilization to enjoy nature while spending one or several nights outdoors, usually at a campsite. Camping may involve the use of a tent, caravan, motorhome, a primitive structure, or no shelter at all. When using recreational vehicles, travelers are often equipped with their own electricity, heat, and patio furniture. Some participants also include activities like canoeing, climbing, biking, trail walking, swimming and kayaking as part of their camping. Others simply use camping as an inexpensive form of accommodation."

Now that last sentence really caught my eye because that is exactly how my father saw camping, as the cheapest way possible for our family to go on little summer vacations. So when June, July and August rolled around each year, depending on how much time he could get away from his job at the Southern Pacific Railroad, off the whole family would go to different campgrounds spread out all over Northern California. Although having fun was the objective, none of that was permitted until the family campsite was set up exactly as my father wanted it. That including tents staked to the ground in such a manner that a Category 5 hurricane couldn't blow them down, sweeping all the dirt far away from the entrance of the tent (have you ever tried to sweep dirt that is on top of other dirt?), and worst of all, blowing up by mouth all the air mattresses which our sleeping bags would rest upon, a task that always left me so out-of-breath and dizzy that I wanted to pass out or barf, or both.

Anyway, after endless years of youthful summer camping where the only activities seemed to be collecting and cutting firewood, taking endless walks to see what was going on in and around the campground, and attending nightly campfires where you were forced to listen to some cornball Smokey the Bear Ranger go on and on about how wonderful nature was, I was pretty much done with camping. Then came Vietnam.

Now when one went camping in Vietnam, not only did you not have your own electricity, heat and patio furniture, but there were very well-camouflaged enemy soldiers all over the darn place wanting it to be the very last time you ever went to sleep in their country. Plus you didn't even have a tent, much less one of those comfortable air mattresses that I used to hate blowing up. And if you did successfully wake up in the morning, there were definitely no fun activities planned like canoeing, biking, or kayaking, just another day of humping around in the jungle and trying to stay alive. Worst of all, if it happened to rain while you were out camping in Vietnam, the shallow foxhole you were calling home for the night started filling up with water, which is a real problem if you don't have any campground showers nearby and a clean set of clothes to put on the next morning, not to mention being too soggy and bone-chilling cold to get a decent night's sleep. Plus when you're trying to be real quiet at night so the enemy can't find you, it is best not to have your teeth chattering.

Setting up camp with my father meant staking tents down well enough to withstand up to a Category 5 hurricane, and trying to sweep dirt off of other dirt.

So I guess the joys of camping are to be found in the eye of the beholder, and unlike my father, I will not be asking my children to someday spread my ashes all around my favorite campground!

Obituary

Betty Fairbairn Sokolich

Betty Sokolich, a resident of West Sacramento since 1949, passed away on September 23, 2014 at the age of 97. She and her first husband, Pitt Turner III, who died in 1969, were married 34 years and were founding members of West Sacramento's Trinity Presbyterian Church. Her second husband, William Vogel, died in 1975.

Betty is survived by her third husband, of 36 years, Joseph Sokolich; her extended family, including 11 children (Judy Turner Jones, Janet Turner Salazar, W. Pitt Turner IV, Roy Vogel, Mark Vogel, Kristin Vogel, Jeannette Vogel Deradoorian, Alexia Vogel, Rosalind Vogel Hunter, Tom Vogel (deceased), and Melinda Sokolich; 20 grandchildren; and more than 21 great and great-great grandchildren.

Betty earned her bachelors' degree in art and her masters' degree in art history at CSUS. She taught high school art and was an active artist her entire life. Her creative pieces have been displayed in juried art shows at Yolo, Sacramento, and San Joaquin county fairs and the California State Fair. She worked in many mediums and has stained glass windows on permanent display at Trinity Presbyterian Church and the Arthur F. Turner Library. The West Sacramento Rotary Club named her their Citizen of the Year and she was also a member of the East Yolo Friends of the Library, AAUW, and the Watercolor Artists of Sacramento Horizons. She also coordinated and curated countless art exhibits over the decades at Arthur F. Turner Library.

A memorial service will be held at Trinity Presbyterian Church, 1500 Park Boulevard in West Sacramento, on October 25, 2014 at 1 pm. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to the Crocker Art Museum at crockerartmuseum.org, or the West Sacramento Friends of the Library, PO Box 692, West Sacramento, CA 95691.

Thomas John Gamble

Tom Gamble passed away on August 31, 2014. He was born on October 11, 1932 in Parkbeg, Saskatchewan, Canada, to Hazel and Iven Gamble. He was predeceased by his parents and all four of his siblings. He is survived by his wife, Anne, whom he married in 1957; two sons, Brandt, of West Sacramento, and Jason (Heidi) of LA; and two granddaughters, Hannah and Madeleine.

Tom was a 54 year member of Boscurvis Masonic Lodge #39, AF&AM in Oxbow, Saskatchewan, and a member of Scepter Masonic Lodge #143, F&AM, West Sacramento. He was also a Past Patron of Delta Star Chapter #639 OES, West Sacramento, and a member of Westminister Presbyterian Church, and the Stowaways, a church fellowship group.

A Celebration of Life will be held on October 11, 2014 at 2 pm in Westminister Presbyterian Church, 1300 N Street, in Sacramento. Back and front entrances are both for wheelchairs. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Shriners Hospital for Children, 2425 Stockton Boulevard, Sacramento, CA 95817, or Grand Chapter of California (J.C. Lee Cancer Fund), or a charity of your choice.

At the Friday night home football games, the River City Regiment is a well-known outlet for students interested in music. There is now a new club on campus that will allow students to explore music using stringed instruments.

"The goal of starting an orchestra is to give students another opportunity for creativity," said Scott McGlasson, the advisor of the new Orchestra Club, as he met with students on Thursday October 3rd for an informational meeting.

Right now, the club is planning on meeting again in November, though the day is yet to be decided.

All RCHS studentsare welcome and there are no requirements or previous experience with an instrument to join. Updates are currently going to be given to students via email or phone and the club has a River City High School Orchestra Facebook page.

"As long as we have student commitment," said McGlasson, "The program will be successful."

goes through the Washington Unified School District. We lay a foundation in primary education, and that really leads into the future work ethic, and whether or not these kids are willing and want to work and succeed"

"As a school board, you're working on curriculum, you're working on finances, you're working on ways to make West Sacramento as a whole a shining light. . . and making sure these kids move on to college or higher education."

"I wouldn't say I'm a micromanager," he added. "I let people do their task at hand, but I do expect those tasks. . . to be completed in a timely manner."

Alves said he believes the district as a whole is on the right path and he comes with no agenda to change direction.

"I don't think there are huge changes or shifts I would like to try. I think it's important to look at ways to increase funding, (whether) it's reaching out to local businesses, charity events, or things like that to help the district as a whole."

He thinks the new "Common Core" curriculum standards are being implemented fairly well and that test scores are one method of measuring success for students and schools.

"I believe school scores have increased in the last few years," said Alves, "which is one way to gauge success. . . I think it's one way to judge. . . how a school or student is doing. But I think there are alternative methods out there that might be a better way.

Where would he like to see more funding go in today's school district?

"I don't think you can really choose one grade or entity in the entire district," answered Alves. "Obviously, you can't please everybody, but I think if we come together as a community, we can figure out where the best use of funds is, if and when those funds become available for the appropriate uses. Such as curriculum, schools, and busing. I think it's important to look at the big picture on this."

Alves joins fellow challenger Norma Alcala and incumbent Sarah Kirby-Gonzalez in the hunt for either of two available seats on next month's local ballot. School board terms are for four years.

great job, saying, "I feel confident about this group more than any team I've ever coached."

A homecoming weekend favorite, the Homecoming dance (theme: "When in Rome"), kept excitement high Saturday as students scouted sites for photo opportunities in their Homecoming clothes and arranged for pre-dance dinners.

The dance got great reviews. River City Leadership students, "put it together very well," said senior Dianna Mercado, 17. She liked the creativity that went into the decorations "especially the lights," she said, adding, "(The dance) was very flashy."

Senior Kelly Saetern, 17, gave the music high marks. "They played a lot more slow songs (than last year)," Kelly said.

River concert: a hit

A music festival's first time on the West Sacramento riverfront appeared to be a success.

Organizers say "TBD Fest" from Friday to Sunday in West Sacramento's Bridge District drew about 21,000 people. The event was formerly known as "Launch" and held annually in Sacramento.

Dozens of musical acts included headliners Moby, Empire of the Sun, and Justice. There was also food and art.

West Sacramento is trying to redevelop and show off its riverfront as a gathering place.

The event did draw noise complaints from people living nearby on both sides of the river.

Lieutenant Tod Sockman of the West Sacramento Police Department told the News-Ledger that his department received 16 noise complaints on Friday night and seven more on Saturday, with no figures available for Sunday.

CLIMATE CHANGE THREATENS ALL AMERICANS
WE MUST WORK TOGETHER ON AN AMERICAN STRATEGY

Climate change is a national security issue. The longer we wait to act, the harder it will be to mitigate and respond to its impacts. U.S. leadership alone will not guarantee global cooperation. But if we fail to take action now, we will have little hope of influencing other countries to reduce their own contributions to climate change, or of forging a coordinated international response.

Here at home, we must cut our own carbon emissions, reduce our reliance on foreign oil, and develop and deploy clean, renewable energy sources that will generate economic growth. We must also help less developed countries adapt to the realities and consequences of a drastically changed climate. Doing so now will help avoid humanitarian disasters and political instability in the future that could ultimately threaten the security of the U.S. and our allies. But most importantly, we must transcend the political issues that divide us — by party and by region — to devise a unified American strategy that can endure and succeed.

We, the undersigned Republicans and Democrats, believe Congress working closely with the Administration must develop a clear, comprehensive, realistic and broadly bipartisan plan to address our role in the climate change crisis. WE MUST LEAD.

Oct. 2, 3 p.m.
A woman on Chinook Road reported returning home to find the house burglarized. The crime occurred between 1:30 and 3. Gone were a $500 purse, $3,000 in cash and checkbooks.

Oct. 2, 3:37 p.m.
A 21-year old man from 6th Street reported that an unidentified suspect robbed him of his cell phone. Said the police report:
"During robbery, suspect bit (victim) on the left side of his upper body."

Oct. 2, 11:40 p.m.
At South River Road and Mills Road:
"The suspect was driving with no headlights, ran a stop sign and was found to be in a stolen vehicle. He was detained in a police vehicle, in which he dumped a baggie of methamphetamine."
The 33-year old suspect went to jail.

Oct. 3, 12:32 am.
A police officer saw a Sacramento man driving a Dodge Dakota with expired registration tags near Sacramento Avenue and Yolo Street. He pulled the man over.
The officer reported that the truck cab smelled of marijuana, which the 57-year old subject denied having. The officer also said he noticed a bulge under the man's waistband. The officer walked back to his patrol car to perform a warrant check, and while doing that saw the suspect "moving about the cab" of the truck.
He then called the suspect out of the vehicle and performed a pat-down search.
"I located a large hunting knife with approximately a six-inch long blade concealed down the front of his pants. I immediately placed him in handcuffs," said the officer.
Further searching turned up a drug scale, two empty baggies and three empty syringes in the man's pockets.
A police dog trained for drugs then searched the car, showing an "alert" at a gap next to a passenger seat. The search turned up five bags of methamphetamine (total weight not available) and a single round of ammo. The suspect went to jail.

Oct. 3, 3:22 a.m.
Loss prevention officers at a Riverpoint Court store called police for a shoplifting incident, and said there was a shoplifting team's "lookout" outside. Police contacted the 33-year old man and found he had a no-bail warrant from Sacramento. The man was arrested.

Oct. 3, 6:19 p.m.
Police contacted a 52-year old homeless man "passed out on the sidewalk." The man had seven outstanding warrants, and was jailed.

Oct. 3, 4 p.m.
Security at a West Capitol Avenue supermarket detained a 20-year old woman from F Street who was caught "trying to steal some food." Police gave her a notice to appear in court, and released her.

Oct. 5, 1:15 a.m.
A police officer saw a blue 2007 Toyota 4Runner with dealer plates at a motel parking lot at Beacon Boulevard and Halyard Drive. The officer ran a check on the last six digits of the vehicle identification number, finding it a "near miss" to the number on a similar vehicle that had been reported stolen.
Because of nearby foot traffic, he did not reapproach the vehicle, continued watching it until he saw a woman drive it out shortly afterward.
The woman stopped at a stop sign for about 30 seconds, then "accelerated backward very fast."
The officer stopped the Toyota. A check of the VIN (vehicle identification number) then confirmed it was stolen. The car's registered owner was contacted, and confirmed the vehicle was gone without her permission and said the 4Runner had both license plates on it when it was stolen. The 24-year old suspect from F Street went to jail.

Oct. 5, 8:30 a.m.
Officers responded to a business on the 1700-block of West Capitol for a woman reported to be "threatening to stab customers."
During a pat-search, the woman was found to be in possession of drug paraphernalia. She was arrested.

Oct. 5, 12 p.m.
A man on Water Street reported that a mirror, brush and blanket were among items missing from his home.

Oct. 5, 3:25 p.m.
A Riverpoint Store's staff detained two Pecan Street women – age 57 and 37, bearing the same last name – for shoplifting. Police cited the pair and released them.

Oct. 5, 6:15 p.m.
Ikea Court:
A 27-year old man from Rosamond was driving drunk when he crashed his vehicle into another. Reported an officer:
The man "then entered another vehicle and began punching the windshield. (Subject) then kicked out my windshield to my patrol unit #83."
The windshield of a victim's car and the patrol car's rear window were both shattered.
The man admitted drinking "beer and Stella" (When? "just now"). He consented to a blood draw to check his alcohol level, and was placed in a WRAP for transport to jail.

Joke of the week:

Four brothers left home for college, and they all became successful doctors and lawyers.
One evening, they chatted after having dinner together. They talked about the gifts they were going to give to their dear old mother on her upcoming 90th birthday.
The first said, "You know, I had a big house built for Mum."
The second said, "And I had a large theatre built in the east wing of that house."
The third said, "And I had my Mercedes dealer deliver an SL600 to her new front door."
The fourth said, "You know how Mum loved reading the Bible and you know she can't read anymore because her eyesight is so poor. Well, I met this minister who told me about a parrot who could recite the entire Bible. It took ten ministers almost eight years to teach the bird. I had to pledge to contribute $50,000 a year for five years to the church, but it was worth it. I have the parrot. Mum only has to name a chapter and verse, and this very special parrot will recite it on demand."
The other brothers were impressed. After the birthday celebration Mum sent out her "thank you" notes.

She wrote:

"Michael, the house you built is so huge that I live in only one room, but I have to clean the whole house. Thanks anyway."
"Mervin, I am too old to travel. I stay home; I have my groceries delivered, so I never use the Mercedes. The thought was nice. Thanks."
"Mark, you gave me an expensive theater with Dolby sound and it can hold 50 people, but all of my friends are dead, I've lost my hearing, and I'm nearly blind. I'll never use it. Thank you for the gesture just the same."
"Dearest Mitchell, you were the only son to have the good sense to give a little thought to your gift. That chicken was delicious. -- Love, Mom."

Couch Theater DVD Previews

By Sam Struckhoff

"Earth to Echo" (PG) -- This found-footage feature feels like a return to the classic blockbuster kid-venture flick, but updated with just enough new-millennium style. Tuck, Munch and Alex (Astro, Reese C. Hartwig and Teo Halm) are the three closest pre-teen pals in their little Nevada neighborhood. The boys desperately want to save the town from a freeway expansion that will demolish it and separate the trio. Adventure calls when the boys receive strange messages on their cellphones, all leading to Echo, a stranded little alien who needs help.

"Snowpiercer" (R) -- This bold-action science-fiction flick has been burning down the film festivals, despite its silly name. When mankind tries to control the climate with a chemical solution, we accidentally freeze the whole world. The last living people have to stay aboard a constantly moving super-train called Snowpiercer -- and there's trouble brewing with the rabble who are forced to live in the back of the train and "know their place." Chris Evans plays the hardened hero who leads a scheme to overthrow the train's ruling class.

Scene from "Canopy"

This movie has a wide array of sci-fi and pop-culture inspiration, all used to great effect. Director Joon-ho Bong of Korea is known for "The Host," a seemingly typical monster flick that turned out to be astoundingly engaging, emotional and fun. This same inventiveness is evident in this newest offering, which also boasts a bigger budget and a globe-spanning A-list cast.

"The Purge: Anarchy" (R) -- Slightly better than last year's purge, this one leaves the suburban fortress and goes into the streets. In the near-ish future, the government gives everybody one night a year where all crime is legal. The action follows Sergeant (Frank Grillo), a grizzled loner who ends up saving a few helpless folks with his armored car. Sergeant and the assorted survivors cruise the city streets, fighting and evading different gangs of psychopaths. The movie is gory, but doesn't cut as deep as it thinks it does.

"Canopy" (PG-13) -- An Australian fighter pilot wakes up suspended in a jungle canopy, shot down by invading Japanese forces. Now he's stranded, unarmed, starving and uncertain of which way to go. In the jungle, he meets another stranded soldier -- a member of the local resistance. They band together to brave the harsh wilderness and outfox the determined Japanese troops hunting them. This movie uses suspense, paranoia and masterful audio to keep the tension strong in this fight for survival.

Reviewed by Ealish Waddell

The surface of the Earth has become the domain of the Ferals -- animalistic, zombie-like humans taken over by the mysterious virus known as the Bug. What's left of civilization has taken to the air, building floating cities high above the chaos of the ground, for the Bug is highly contagious -- every drop of Feral blood holds infection and insanity.

Ben has lived his entire life amid the harsh, violent reality of the Sick, scratching out a hardscrabble existence as a forager and salvager. Aboard his family airship, the Cherub, he's used to being on his own and choosing his own path.

Lately, he's signed on as a protector for a group of scientists who are seeking a cure for the Bug. They are led by Miranda, a determined and idealistic woman who inspires feelings in Ben warmer than he cares to admit. But a band of raiders has been rampaging through the floating cities, leaving destruction and death in their wake. When they attack the scientists' base, they make off with Ben's beloved airship among their stolen booty.

Stranded, Ben must navigate deadly terrain to get back to safety and come up with some way, any way, to get his ship back. Then Miranda unexpectedly reappears in his life, and Ben, who has always been concerned first and foremost with his own survival, now has to decide whether there's something more important worth fighting for.

Tales involving airships and mad science tend to be set in an alternate past, but this one shakes things up by taking place in an imagined post-apocalyptic future. It's a fast-paced adventure loaded with fight scenes, secret missions, gory horror and even some sexytimes. But deeper themes run underneath: the power of love, the point of life, and the place of faith and hope in a ruined world.

Irreplaceable Pumpkin

It's that time of the year when certain foods take the stage in a grand fashion. Fall ushers in a long season of iconic ingredients and homey, familiar dishes. Much has been said and written about and created with pumpkin. Maybe it's because this famous gourd is the very color of the changing landscape. It makes you wonder: Is there anything new under the brilliant orange skin of the pumpkin?

When it comes to our taste buds, fads seem to come and go. One minute we are gushing and gorging on a new sensation, and the next we're discarding it like an old pair of leg warmers. But pumpkins are like diamonds; they will forever be loved and treasured. Maybe it's because we don't feast on them all year long, so when their season returns, they bring to the table that wonderful combination of something new, yet remembered.

The pumpkin plant originated in Central America, but it has become tied to the history of our United States. We have a reverence for pumpkins that almost no other fruit or vegetable can claim. Most of us learned in school that pumpkins were introduced to early pilgrims by Native American Indians. They roasted long strips of pumpkin flesh over an open fire. Pumpkin, prepared as we know it now, came about much later.

The very first incarnation of the pie loved by a whole nation was a hollowed-out pumpkin filled with milk, honey and spices, then roasted. From there the pumpkin went viral, and the myriad ways we've found to slip it into a dish boggles the imagination.

Pumpkin does seem to make everything better. It's good for you, and so versatile that it can be used in both savory and sweet dishes, including soups, pastas, breads and desserts. Pumpkins provide a hefty source of vitamin A, as well as being one of the tastiest forms of fiber. The beauty of the golden orange pumpkin is not only skin deep. That gorgeous color is an indicator of significant amounts of beta carotene, comparable to carrots, beets and sweet potatoes. Pumpkin seeds are rich in protein, minerals and fiber.

The seeds possess a rich buttery taste that lends itself well to pestos or salads, as a delicious candy brittle or as a crunchy snack when toasted and spiced.

So, ready, set, go -- get your pumpkin and start cooking!

PUMPKIN BREAD PUDDING WITH VANILLA SAUCE

My Pumpkin Bread Pudding is the perfect way to celebrate fall!

8 ounces day-old or dried French bread*, cut into small pieces, about 5 cups
2 cups half-and-half, or half milk and half cream
3 large eggs
2/3 cup granulated sugar or agave syrup
2/3 cup brown sugar plus more for sprinkling
2 cups of fresh, pumpkin puree or 1 can (15-ounces) pumpkin puree
1 cup dried fruit or chopped walnuts or pecans, or a combination of the two
3 tablespoons melted butter plus more to butter pan
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon plus more for sprinkling
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon vanilla

1. Butter an 11-by-7-inch baking dish. Heat oven to 350 F.
2. In a large bowl, cover the French bread with the half-and-half. Press the bread into the milk with the back of a large spoon to make sure it soaks evenly. Set aside.
3. In another bowl, combine eggs, sugar or agave syrup, and brown sugar, pumpkin, dried fruit and/or nuts, melted butter, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger and vanilla; blend well. Pour pumpkin mixture over soaked bread and stir to blend.
4. Pour mixture into prepared baking dish. Sprinkle top with 2 heaping tablespoons of cinnamon and brown sugar mixed together, if desired. Bake for 45 to 60 minutes, or until set. Serve with whipped cream or an ice cream sauce, if desired. Serves 8.

*If your French bread is fresh, cut it into cubes and place it on metal baking pan in a 200 F oven for 10 minutes to dry out any moisture. Stir and bake for another 5 to 10 minutes until crunchy and slightly golden brown. Allow to cool, and proceed with the recipe.

TIP: A good quality vanilla, black walnut or caramel ice cream can be melted at room temperature and then served over the bread pudding as a sauce.

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE File No. 7042.14066 Title Order No. 1637079 MIN No. 100015700059358214 APN 046-062-009 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST, DATED 05/24/06. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. A public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, check drawn by state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, or savings association, or savings bank specified in §5102 to the Financial code and authorized to do business in this state, will be held by duly appointed trustee. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligation secured by said Deed of Trust. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. Trustor(s): REBECCA B CLIFTON, SURVIVING JOINT TENANTS Recorded: 06/01/06, as Instrument No. 2006-0021455-00, of Official Records of YOLO County, California. Date of Sale: 10/14/14 at 10:00 AM Place of Sale: At the North entrance to the City Hall, 1110 West Capital, West Sacramento, CA The purported property address is: 3014 ALDER WAY, WEST SACRAMENTO, CA 95691 Assessors Parcel No. 046-062-009 The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $267,023.55. If the sale is set aside for any reason, the purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the deposit paid, plus interest. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the beneficiary, the Trustor or the trustee. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 877-484-9942 or 800-280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site www.USA-Foreclosure.com or www.Auction.com using the file number assigned to this case 7042.14066. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Date: September 17, 2014 NORTHWEST TRUSTEE SERVICES, INC., as Trustee Victoria Gutierrez, Authorized Signatory 1241 E. However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. NOTICE TO ADOPT A MITIGATED NEGATIVE DECLARATION

A Mitigated Negative Declaration has been prepared for the Promenade Vesting Tentative Map No. 5059, Conditional Use Permit and Planned Development Permit. The project site is located at 3151 Southport Parkway (south and east of Southport Parkway in the Southport Business Park). This Mitigated Negative Declaration has been prepared to address the potential environmental impacts of subdividing approximately 18.3 acres into 223 single family lots. The Mitigated Negative Declaration concludes that with the implementation of recommended mitigation measures there will be no significant adverse impacts on the environment.

The Mitigated Negative Declaration is available for public review and comment between October 3, 2014, to October 23, 2014. Copies of the Mitigated Negative Declaration are on file in the office of the West Sacramento Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA 95691 (telephone: 916/617-4645).

Any affected or interested parties may appear at the November 6, 2014, Planning Commission meeting and comment on the Mitigated Negative Declaration and/or the proposed project.

The West Sacramento Planning Commission will consider adoption of the Mitigated Negative Declaration on November 6, 2014, in the City Council chambers located at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA, 95691 at 6:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

Regatta at the port

West Sacramento's River City Rowing Club will host some racing on its home waters at the port this Sunday, Oct. 12. The action will last from about 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The event includes college crews from UC Davis (also headquartered at West-Sacramento's port), UC Berkeley, Sacramento State and St. Mary's College. It also includes high school and adult ("masters") teams.

Instead of the shorter, side-by-side rowing races common in springtime, this event will feature three-mile "head races," with boats started individually and chasing each other down the course while battling the clock. Each entry is timed individually and winners are determined by their elapsed time.

Best public viewing is from the levee on the south side of the channel. Look for RCRC's free parking or go to the city's barge canal access point at 2100 Jefferson Boulevard in Southport and walk to the course. Binoculars and lawn chairs are recommended.

There will be a food truck on site from North Border Taco.

Events around the region

Haunted fort

For those looking for something ghoulishly unique to do this Halloween, check out the fifth annual "The Haunted Fort" at Sutter's Fort State Historical Park in Sacramento. The historical site will offer special lantern-lit guided tours leaving every ten minutes for two evenings only. This event may not be appropriate for very young children and for more information about dates and purchasing advanced tickets call 323-7626 or visit www.suttersfort.org

Porcelain show

The Camellia City Porcelain Artists will hold their 23rd Annual Fired Art Show and Tea on October 11-12 from 10 am to 4 pm at the Shepard Garden and Arts Center, 3330 McKinley Boulevard in Sacramento. Tea and refreshments will be served and there will be a display of beautiful hand-painted porcelain and demonstrations by members. There will also be ornaments, cups and saucers, mugs and various other hand-painted items for sale. The event is free and open to the public.

Hunting applications

The Stone Lakes National Wildlife Refuge is currently accepting 2014-15 waterfowl hunting applications. This is a refuge run program and is not administered by the California Department of Fish and Wildlife. All applicants must download the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service application form FWS-3-2355 from the website and mail back to Stone Lakes NWR. The form can be downloaded at: http://www. fws.gov/refuge/Stone_Lakes/visit/visitor_activities/waterfowl_hunting.html

Tall ship in Sacramento

Due to high demand for its educational programs, the tall ship Hawaiian Chieftain, a regular visitor to Old Sacramento in the fall, was scheduled to arrive on September 22, docking at Front Street and "L" Street, just above the Tower Bridge. For details about the education programs that will be offered visit www.historicalseaport.org or call 800-200-5239. The ship will be open to the public for walk-on tours Tuesdays through Friday from 4-5 pm, and weekends from 10 am to 1 pm. A $3 donation per person is appreciated.

Old Sac underground tours

Hidden beneath the city of Sacramento for nearly 150 years, Old Sacramento's underground has long been the capital's best-kept secret. But underground tours will begin again on September 4 and run through October 30 and you will have the unique opportunity to uncover the facts behind the legends that lie below historic buildings and sidewalks. The tours begin at the Sacramento History Museum, 101 I Street in Old Sacramento and cost $15 for adults and $10 for youths ages 6-17. Visit www.historicoldsac.org or call 808-7059.

However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call Priority Posting and Publishing at 714-573-1965 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale or visit the Internet Web site address listed below for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA08001826-14-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Robert M. Nannini, Decedent
CASE NUMBER PB14-164

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Robert M. Nannini:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Jaymie L. Nannini in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Jaymie L. Nannini be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Oct. 28, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695, Family Law.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

CASE NUMBER PB14-165

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Jan William Snyder, aka Jan Snyder, Jan W. Snyder, J.W. Snyder:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Harry E. Snyder in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Harry E. Snyder be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Oct. 29, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Said sale will be held, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, condition, or encumbrances, including fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust, to pay the remaining principal sums of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $103,140.08 If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (714) 730-2727 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.LPSASAP.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 012764-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site.
